Rheumatism.
More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all dealers.

Robert Horton at Raton pleaded guilty before Judge Mills to assault with intent to kill and received a sentence of eighteen months in the penitentiary.

HERE IS RELIEF FOR WOMEN.
If you have pains in the back, urinary, bladder or kidney trouble and want a certain, pleasant herb relief from women's ills, try Mother Gray's "Australian-Leaf." ## THE YOUNG REPORTER

He Appeared to Be Very Industrious.

"Hendrick's certainly industrious," said Mr. Pickle, night city editor of the Daily Whiff. "He's always writing Sunday stuff."

"Can't burn the candle at both ends," observed Tom Click, who was on the cable desk. "He'll blow up like they all do. He's young and eager, of course, but if he keeps this gait up it'll be tell the gang a fond good-by for his."

They gazed at Hendrick, who was beating out a story on his typewriter. Click sighed.

"I remember the biggest week's bill I ever made as a reporter," said he, reflectively. "Time of the St. Louis cyclone. I wrote—"

Here Mr. Pickle's phone rang and he answered it with glad haste, because he'd heard about that record bill. Click, having little to do at the moment, strolled about the city room. He halted at Hendrick's desk and greeted the young man amiably.

"Evenin', Joe," said he. "What you making?"

"Sunday story," replied Hendrick, briefly.

Click remained beside him. Hendrick stopped work and hid the sheet upon his machine by carefully laying one arm over it. He smiled coldly.

"Romance?" pursued Click, and he wondered why Hendrick flushed at the word. "Why don't you shoot out some more of that Bowery Junk? It's good and you can't turn out too many of 'em. How you feeling?"

"Oh, I'm all right," said Hendrick. He sighed as if irritated.

"I tell you, better not try to do too much," Click warned. "I was just as gay as you are when I was a young fellow. There'll be reporters after we're dead—"

"Some one on your 'phone, sir," a small copy boy sought the speaker's attention.

"As you'll find out," ended Click, and scuttled to his desk.

Obviously relieved, Hendrick returned to his work. Sheet after sheet joined the neat pile beside the typewriter. In the middle of one, at which he stared with worried eyes, a boy announced that his services were required by the city desk.

"Man killed two, took gas himself and made a bloomer of it, now at the hospital. Wife caught him with affinity on the street. Here's the names. We can't stand over three-quarters tonight. Only a ten-page paper," said Mr. Pickle. "Smith can take it on the 'phone if it looks like a job. Gimme what you can for the first."

It was 1 a. m. when Hendrick finished his night's assignment. Click, going home with all the morning papers under his arm, was shocked to see Hendrick take out an envelope, rapidly scan the typewritten pages it had held and then begin upon the "Sunday stuff." The toiler looked up and met Click's gaze.

"You better go home," said the cable editor sternly. "Gwan, get out o' here and quit that ding-donging forever! Want any eyes or brains left for your old age?"

Hendrick smiled coldly.

Every member of the staff commented on Hendrick's love of work. Between news stories he turned out innumerable columns.

"I believe he's doing a book," said Charlie Cubb, the juvenile individual who did such chores for the Whiff as the older men declined.

"He's been looking gloomier every night since he started on it," remarked Mr. McLemon, who covered Tenderloin police. "Ain't a bit like himself."

They speculated, but after one or two attempts the Whiff's staff ceased to ask questions, because Hendrick displayed a too savage temper when inquiries were made. Click publicly mourned over him.

"Hendrick must have six full pages in the magazine," he said to Snipper, the Sunday editor, on a Saturday afternoon. "You shouldn't let him work as he does bad."

"Why I can't get him to write even a little human interest story—and I offered to run his name over it," said the Sunday editor. "They're all lazy. And he's the laziest."

"Hendrick hasn't anything in tomorrow?"

"Nary a line," said Snipper. "Mighty queer," ruminated Click. "Is he trying to bust the magazines?"

In the city room Hendrick was writing, as usual, but he appeared.

"Now what you doing?" asked Click. "Sunday story?"

Hendrick nodded sadly.

"Won't the end come out right?"

"Nothing's right," said Hendrick, dolefully. "It's all wrong."

Click heard the swish of a silk gown. That was an infrequent sound in the city room. He looked a pretty girl, in an olive green gown and a drooping sort of hat with a plume, of which Click approved, followed a pugnosed copy boy toward Hendrick's desk. She carried a sheath of big envelope with the New York Whiff printed in one corner.

"Oh, Joey," she cried, rushing past the boy; "we moved two weeks ago and I just happened to go into the old place and there I found all the letters together! What must you have thought?"

"Is—is it all right?" Hendrick scorned to wait for Click to absent himself. "Is it?"

"Of course, you silly," said the pretty girl. She blushed redly.

"I just couldn't wait, and so walked in here," she added.

Click sneaked away.

Wants All To Know—

Roding, Ga., September 12, 1906.
MESSRS. E. G. DE WITT & CO.,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen—Yours of the 6th to hand. In reply will say, most assuvely use my letter in any way you see fit for the benefit of the suffering. I will answer all correspondence as to my own case. I recommend KODOL to all I hear grumbling about their stomachs, and have bought many their first bottle. All that is required is a trial of KODOL. It talks for itself.

Yours very truly,
G. N. CORNELL.

L. J. Slaven, deputy of the district court of San Juan county, living at Aztec, has tendered his resignation.

Object to Strong Medicines.
Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all dealers.

The Maxwell Maxin, a weekly published at Maxwell City by J. Gordo Smith, has made its appearance.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm will master catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell the 50 cent size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

The Balm is used without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. Ely's Cream Balm contains no cocaine, mercury nor other harmful drugs.

THE VERY BEST.

Have any of our readers seen a recent copy of the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer? If not, it will pay to send for a copy, if for no other purpose than to note its present great worth as an educator in all things that tend to make life prosperous, and home, the happiest place on earth.

The editor by asking its readers to criticize and suggest improvements; and following advice thus obtained is enabled to produce a paper that exactly fits needs of a family and a material aid to father, mother and children in reaching that higher level in social life, where content and comfort reigns supreme.

Father obtains ample information that guides in the where, when and how to regulate and increase the income from his efforts. The mother in management of household affairs, practical economy, government of children, and other duties that makes her toil a labor of love. Children's minds and hearts are freed from thoughts of questionable amusements and frivolities of life, and encouraged to emulate all that is helpful in planning for a useful future in life.

The Grand Idea being that: "As are our Homes, so will be the Community, State and Nation."

A most desirable help, is a non-sectarian sermon each week, as preached by that Biblical Student Pastor Chas. T. Russell; a forcible reminder of the spiritual and temporal rewards gained by righteous living as preferable to a Godless life that brings nought but misery to the home.

Other departments and features are above the ordinary, the unanimous verdict of its readers being: "The cleanest and best family Weekly known to them."
